And a Memo on Auto Insurance

Choice Morsel
Louis Graves, writing in Facts & Figures column of his Nashville News January 26, is authority for this story:
Sid McMath, organizing a Marine reserve unit at Little Rock, asked nine reserve officers if they would join his outfit - but they were reluctant, and finally held a private caucus. There they ran a test vote on their choice between McClellan and McMath for United States senator. And here is the end of the story as told by Editor Graves, himself a former Marine captain:
"Would you believe it, of nine Marines who voted, only one voted for Sid, - the other eight said they would vote for McClellan," said my friend, who voted with the majority."

This being license-buying time for both cars and drivers it is noteworthy news that since the driver's financial responsibility law went into effect six months ago 50 percent have lost their right to operate an automobile because of accidents in which they were unable to pay damage awards - and the State Revenue Department is hunting 400 others.

I gathered the above facts from a statement issued January 6 by John Gaudney, chief title examiner for the department.

The new law provides that any driver involved in an accident causing more than $100 damage must report to the department within five days. And if he can't take care of any damage award against him, either personally or through insurance, his driver's license is suspended.

It's a good law, should have been enacted years ago, and it vigorously enforced will cut down the outrageously high accident rate in our state.

Enforcement is the key. And from this viewpoint the record of the first six months under the new law isn't so good - 50 licenses suspended, but 400 drivers unaccounted for.

Here, however, is where an informed public can help out. You know there is a driver's responsibility law on the books, and a person with a claim can get tough about it. This means, of course, reporting any accident involving over $100 damage, and running the risk that investigation may make yourself rather than the other fellow liable.

Any driver with a conscience will cover all highway hazards by insurance. And irresponsible drivers will be handled by the law. If enough of them are handled maybe we'll make the highways of the Prohibition Belt as safe as the metropolitan highways which run by the neon signs of a thousand taverns.

But we've a long way to go - to learn that a little law enforcement is better than a lot of law.

Youth Kills Grandmother, Parents

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (U) - A 15-year-old youth who said he never had much trouble with his folks before admitted the cold-blooded slaying of his parents and his grandmother but showed no remorse.

"I don't know why I did it," said Richard Wisdorf. "I never had any desire to do anything like this before."

Sony J. Wisdorf 45-year-old grocer; his wife, about 40, and Mrs. Robert Larson, 70, were found shot to death yesterday in their shanty home, Minn., home.

Young Wisdorf was arrested on a tip in a St. Joseph theater yesterday. Detective Chief Verne Starmer said he readily admitted the slayings.

Richard told officers the triple killing occurred Monday night. The bodies were found the following morning after neighbors became suspicious and notified authorities.

Minnesota officers arrived here early today and planned to obtain a formal statement from the youth before taking him back to Sherburne, in south central Minnesota later in the day. He waived extradition.

Detective Starmer said Wisdorf told officers he became angry with his parents after they had reprimanded him for getting home late from school.

More Chinese Arrive in Formosa

TAIPEH, Formosa, (UP) - The final batch of Chinese prisoners of war in Korea were unloaded from let's in Formosa's northern port of Keelung in the worst weather of the year today.

As the last of the 14,207 anti-Communist Chinese soldiers came ashore, crowds roared a deafening welcome as they had the two previous days when other groups arrived.

The men were transported here in 15 American LST's to end the long tortuous prisoner of war story which resulted in their chance to choose Nationalist rather than Red China.

Farmers From 10 Counties Air Cotton Supports

Joe C. Hardin, Grady, President of the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation, said today, at a meeting of Farm Bureau leaders at Hope from 10 counties, that the voting delegates to the American Farm Bureau Convention in Chicago recommended that the present price support of guaranteeing 90 per cent of parity regardless of supply be allowed to expire at the end of 1954 and the Agriculture Act of 1949 with respect to variable support prices be allowed to go into operation.

Further he said it was recommended that the Act be amended to read: "... that 90 per cent of parity price supports shall be mandatory the first year that marketing quotas are in effect for any commodity immediately following year in which marketing quotas were not in effect on such commodity."

"In actual practice," Hardin said, "if such amendment were added to the law, farmers would have two years in which to adjust their production and still maintain 90 per cent price supports." Using cotton as an example he explained how farmers would have two years in which to adjust production.

Before January 1, 1955, if the supply is between 108 and 110 per cent of normal, the Secretary of Agriculture, as required by law, would announce that cotton would be supported at 89 per cent on parity for the 1955 crop. Then if the farmers curtailed the 1955 planting such that the estimated supply for 1955 would drop to or below 108 per cent of normal, the Secretary can, according to the act, raise the support prices back to 90 per cent of parity anytime before August 1, 1955.

This adjustment in the middle of the year, because of a revised estimate, cannot as a boomerang since the Secretary can only adjust support prices upward.

The voting delegates envisioned the program operating in this manner, he went on to explain, still using cotton as an example. With the amendment recommended the farmers would be guaranteed 90 per cent price supports during the first year that marketing quotas were in effect. In the second year, if the supply were adjusted properly, either by curtailed planting, adverse weather conditions, increased consumption.

If the Greek Socrates Should Be Resurrected He Probably Would Become a Taxi Driver

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK - If Socrates, that wise old Greek, should be resurrected here, he would probably become a taxi driver.

He was a great street talker in Athens, and the greatest street philosophers in New York are his cabbies. Their life on wheels puts them in a position to learn more about human nature than even the cops. And even Socrates might add to his wisdom by taking out a hack license.

People here love to collect the funny remarks of taxi drivers, but one cabbie told me:

"If I repeated the stupid things I have overheard some prominent people say in this cab - well, heads would roll."

Reds Told to Come, Get Prisoners

By FRANK JORDAN

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP) - The Indian command told the Communists today to come and get their 347 "prisoners," including 21 American "world peace fighters," at any time tomorrow.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya sent a note to Red Chinese Gen. Lee Sang Cho, agreeing to turn over personnel records of his former comrades to Chinese and North Korea Red Cross representatives.

In effect, Thimayya's letter said he did not care where the prisoners went and they were "free to go at any time."

"Even if the walk out," Thimayya said, "We will have nothing to do with them."

Thimayya withdrew his Indian custodial forces from the prison stockades at midnight Jan. 22 when, under the armistice agreement, all unrepatriated prisoners of war automatically became civilians.

However, a unit of Indians had remained in the area of the compound to maintain law and order. The Communists refused to take back the prisoners when the Indian custodial period expired on the ground that they should be held in neutral custody until a Korean political conference debates their fate for 30 days. The conference has not been convened, although the Reds have called for a resumption of negotiations on their own terms.

However, in a face-saving gesture, the Communists agreed to turn the expatriates over to the Red Cross societies until the Korean conference discusses their disposition.

President Says Dickenson to Get Justice

By CHARLES CORDDRY

WASHINGTON (UP) - President Eisenhower said today Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson personally will see that justice is done in the case of Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, the Korean war prisoner now facing court martial charges.

The President said he was disturbed when he read last week of the arrest Friday of the Cracker's Neck, Va., G. I. who once decided to stay with communism and later changed his mind.

Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference he immediately contacted Wilson. He said he is certain Wilson will see to it that justice is done.

Drawing upon his own long career in military service, Mr. Eisenhower explained that a court martial is preceded by a long investigation to determine whether there are real grounds for a trial.

Cy CHARLES W. CORDDRY
WASHINGTON (UP) - Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson's defense attorney said today he wanted an open hearing on court martial charges against the former Korean war prisoner whose case is expected to make legal history.

Lt. Col. E. W. Hedrick, pointed out to defend the 23-year-old soldier from Cracker's Neck, Va., called the case "unique" and said "from the defense standpoint, the more publicity the better." He referred to the army's pending investigation of charges which could lead to a death sentence if the former prisoner who changed his mind about staying with the Reds is tried and convicted. The army has not said whether the inquiry will be public.

Reg. William C. Wampler (R Va.), whose district includes Cracker's Neck, arranged to confer today with army general counsel John Adams about the case. He said he wanted to be sure that Dickenson gets "every consideration" provided by law.

Joined here by his bride Kate and other kinfolk, Dickenson prepared for the pre-trial investigation while 21 of his former comrades who refused repatriation prepared to leave the neutral zone in Korea to return to their Communist captors. The Reds have agreed to take them, one Briton and 325 South Koreans back tomorrow.

Upper Hand for Ike on Bricker Issue

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (U) - President Eisenhower appeared today to have the upper hand in his battle with Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) over a proposed change in treaty-making powers.

The controversy now centered in the Senate headed toward these possible outcomes:

1. Bricker could take the unlikely step of compromising or abandoning the heart of his proposed constitutional amendment - which says that "a treaty shall become effective as internal law in the United States only through legislation which would be valid in the absence of treaty."

2. The Senate could substitute for that clause by majority vote which GOP leaders claimed they could muster - A provision acceptable to the President or an entirely new draft.

3. If Bricker and his followers refused to accept this action, their alternative would be to vote against the revised version on passage. That evidently would mean the amendment would not muster the needed two-thirds majority. It would thus be dead, and present constitutional provisions would remain intact. Bricker has said he would accept a Senate decision.

4. A majority of the Senate could postpone a showdown by voting to send the whole measure back in its Judiciary Committee for further study - as proposed by Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore).

Eisenhower has said he would support an amendment which says that no treaty or international agreement can contravene the Constitution. But he obviously would rather have no amendment at all than one he contends would hamper American relations with other nations.

Atom Battery Announced by Firm

NEW YORK. - A new method of converting the rays from radioactive atoms directly into useful electricity has been announced by the Radio Corp. of America.

The discovery may one day provide a matchbox-size power unit good for 20 years. for lighting homes, running refrigerators and radios and television sets. It also might run hearing aids and wrist-watch radios or be a nearly permanent battery for automobiles.

David Sarnoff RCA board chairman, announced the discovery yesterday.

It is a battery smaller than the filler tip of a cigarette. Rays coming from a few salt grains of "cheap" radio active atoms which do not split, are turned into electric current.

Other methods have been used in the past to turn the locked-up energy of atoms directly into electricity, but this one is more efficient and thousands of times more powerful.

Morrison Wins at New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, (U) - Mayor Dellespess Morrison easily won his third term as mayor of Louisiana's largest city.

Complete but unofficial returns from yesterday's Democratic primary gave the 42-year-old Morrison 94,194 votes. Thomas M. Brahney Jr., a member of the Commission Council, was net in the field of nine with 49,499 votes.

Morrison will face the formality of a general election in April, but the Democratic nomination is tantamount to election in largely one-party Louisiana.

Criminal Sheriff John Grosch ran third with 11,305 votes.

Statehood for Hawaii Gets Committee Nod

WASHINGTON (UP) - The Senate interior committee today approved a bill to grant statehood to Hawaii.

The committee reversed its previous stand and knocked out of the bill a provision to grant statehood to Alaska. But, it agreed to vote on Alaskan statehood Feb. 4.

The vote to report Hawaiian statehood alone was 12 to 3 sen. George W. Malone (R-Nev.), George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) and Price Daniel (D-Tex.) voted against the proposal.

A subcommittee headed by sen. Guy Cordon (R-Ore.) went to work immediately to "perfect" a separate statehood measure for Alaska.

The Hawaii statehood bill now goes to the Senate where leaders are pledged to bring it up for debate this year. However, it must wait at least until the Senate disposes of the controversial Bricker amendment. Debate on the amendment starts today and is expected to continue for more than a week.

The Interior Committee broke a deadlock on the statehood bill by an 8 to 7 vote when Sen. Henry C. Dworthak (R-Iowa) reversed his position and moved to reconsider a previous vote that had put statehood for Hawaii and Alaska in the same measure.

The committee separated the two issues by a similar 8-7 vote. The administration has strongly backed statehood for Hawaii, which is heavily Republican. However, it has been less enthusiastic about admitting normally Democratic Alaska to the union Senate Democrats until today had succeeded in tying the two measures together.

Chairman Hugh B. White (R-Neb.) told a news conference the full committee will meet Feb. 3 so all members can offer amendments to the Alaska bill which Cordon's subcommittee is writing.

Butler said he personally is pledged to support statehood for Alaska, but wants "a bill that will give Alaska a large share, if not practically all of the territory's natural resources."

Most of the land in Alaska is now held by the federal government.

Condon Admits Belonging to Front Group

B YRUSSELL BRIME
WASHINGTON (U) - Rep. Robert L. Condon (D-Calif.) testified today he had been a member of two organizations cited as Communist fronts. He denied other particulars of 13 "reports" which caused him to be barred from atomic tests last May.

The freshman congressman said he belonged briefly to the American League for Peace and Democracy, later cited as subversive by the attorney general, and for some years to the National Lawyers Guild, cited as a Communist front by the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Otherwise, Condon denied or said he had no recollection of the "reported information" on the basis of which the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) prevented him from accompanying other congressmen to the Nevada atomic tests. He swore yesterday he had never been a Communist.

Makes Money With Coffee at 5c Cup

By STEVEN V. DAVID
NEW YORK. - Fellow out in Kansas says he makes money in his restaurant selling coffee at a nickel a cup. Restauranters in big cities are pushing prices up to 10 cents a cup.

The answer seems to lie in how many cups you get out of a pound. What kind of profit margin you want, and what overhead costs you have. Restaurant men started talking about 15-cent coffee when the retail price reached $1 a pound. Because of a short crop in Brazil, further hikes in ground coffee are expected.

But Paul Park of Liberal, Kan., says he's going to stand firm at a nickel a cup because he's making $90 a week on coffee in his restaurant at that price.

Another Kansan, Jim Lofland, has cut the price to 4 cents. He said that's his break-down point and this coffee "is just an accommodation for our customers' any way."

But things are different in New York.

"We get 48 cups from a pound of coffee and estimate it costs us 9 1/2 cents to put a cup of coffee in front of a customer," said a spokesman for the Childs Co., large Eastern restaurant chain.

Housewives to Boycott Coffee

DURANGO, Colo. (UP) - A group of Durango housewives, miffed over the soaring price of coffee, set out today on a campaign to buyout the stuff.

The idea started around a bridge table when the discussion hit upon the upward trend in the price of coffee. Experts say coffee will go up to $1.25 per pound on the retail shelf soon.

Ten members of the bridge club have each promised to telephone five other housewives to seek their cooperation. The idea is to get the other housewives to telephone five more, and so on. They will ask their friends to boycott coffee beginning Feb. 1. The boycott is to last for two weeks.

It was also suggested that the ladies work on their husbands to get them to abandon their morning coffee hour each Wednesday.

New Producers of Cotton Must File

Producers on new cotton farms will have until February 15 to file an application for new cotton allotment under the 1954 cotton acreage allotment and marketing program. The closing date was set by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Committee of which W. L. Jameson, Jr., of Magnolia is chairman.

The applications must be filed with the ASC County Committee of the county in which the farm is located.

A "new" cotton farm is defined as one on which cotton is to be planted in 1954 but on which there was no acreage planted to cotton in any of the years 1951, 1952 or 1953.

Instructions provide that a new cotton allotment may be established by the county committee if each of the following conditions are met:

1. An application is filed by the closing date (Feb. 15, 1954).
2. The farm operator is largely dependent on income from the farm for his livelihood.
3. The farm is the only farm in the county which is owned or operated by the farm operator or his family.

Preliminary Investigation Now Full Scale

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (U) - President Eisenhower said today the Federal Trade Commission will make a full scale investigation of rising coffee prices.

The President told a news conference the commission launched a preliminary inquiry Jan. 13 and already has discovered enough to warrant a full investigation.

Such an inquiry he added is going to take place.

NEW YORK (UP) - Prices in coffee futures tumbled today on the New York coffee and sugar exchange after President Eisenhower's announcement that the Federal Trade Commission will launch a full scale investigation of coffee prices.

The futures had opened up .77 to 1.10 cents a pound over yesterday's closing, but eased off shortly after opening as a result of a profit-taking. The decline got into high gear after the President's announcement.

Retail prices for coffee have lately jumped above $1 a pound and wholesalers have predicted a further rise.

The trade commission's investigation will be aimed at determining whether tariff laws have been violated.

The President said the new would look for "any evidence that coffee trading in this country has been limited to certain types of transactions."

At his news conference, the President also:

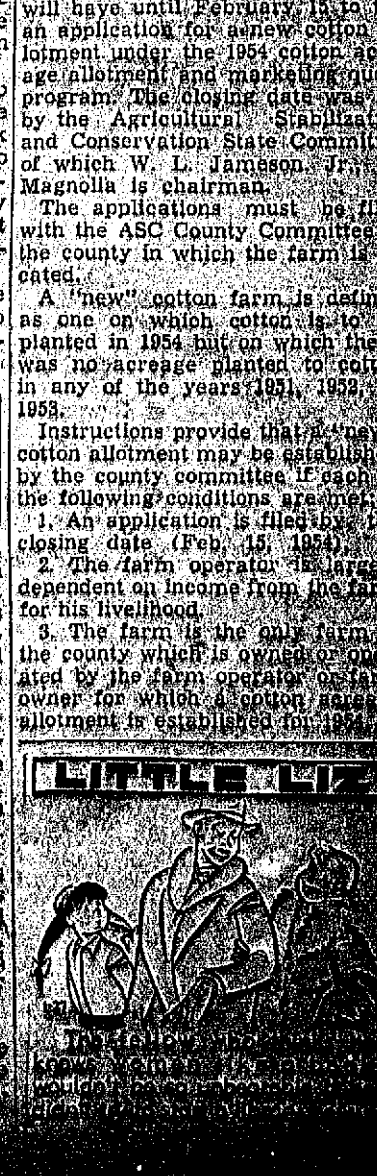

1. Declared he is backing up the position of Secretary of State Dulles at the Berlin Big Four conference. That was in reply to a request for comment on Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's demand for a Big Five parity, including Red China, on world problems. Dulles rejects that idea.

2. Said his associate at the capital tell him they still are hopeful a compromise on the controversial Bricker treaty-power amendment can be worked out.

3. Discussed the distinction, as to see if between the policies of his administration and the "new deal" of the preceding Democratic administrations. He said his administration is politically liberal in dealing with individuals and companies.

ervative in dealing with economic and monetary matters.

A major difference can be cited, he added, simply by taking a look at the budget which he said shows the administration is reducing spending and that his predecessors went further and further into debt.

Assured that Rep. Condon (R-Calif.) has every right to clear himself of charges of subversion, Condon last year was refused permission to view atomic tests because of information the Atomic Energy Commission said it had received about him. The congressman has denied that he is or ever has been a Communist or a sympathizer. He is given a hearing by the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee.

Declared a measure of humanity will be employed by the Army in handling the case of Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, the American former prisoner of war who first chose to remain with the Communists and then elected to return home. The Army has started court martial proceedings against Dickenson on the ground that he had unlawfully dealings with the enemy. The President said, too, he is certain the armed forces will use sympathy in dealing with Americans who confessed under duress to engaging in germ warfare. The Marine Corps has ordered in inquiry into the case of Col. Frank H. Schwable, Marine filer who while a prisoner signed a germ warfare confession which he retracted when released.

Eisenhower said he was so disturbed when he read about the start of court martial proceedings against Dickenson that he got in touch with Secretary of Defense Wilson about the case.

Tagged as an idea worth looking into, a reporter's suggestion that the administration adopt a method of giving something like honorable discharges to those who resign from the government without any suspicion that they might be security risks.

Declared with a trace of irritation that his new farm program, calling for a system of flexible price supports eventually, represents no basic change in his thinking. He added that he never promised during the presidential campaign to maintain price supports at a rigid 90 per cent of parity beyond the end of this year.

Said he probably will send Congress a special message dealing with his recommendations on foreign trade. Those recommendations will be based, he said, in part on a report by his special study commission and in part on an analysis of that study now being made by various government agencies.

Said the administration abandoned plan store renew its call for a freeze of the 1 1/2 per cent social security pay roll tax because the 2 per cent rate now in effect will be needed to finance the expanded health insurance program the administration proposes. The proposed expansion would bring an additional 10 million Americans under social security.

Declined comment on the latest talk between Secretary of State Dulles and Soviet Ambassador Zarinin on Eisenhower's proposal for creation of an international atomic pool for peaceful purposes. The President said he didn't know when there would be a report on that matter.

Commenting on the proposal of the veterans of foreign wars in Newark, Conn., to send to the FBI names of residents of that city deemed "Communist," said probably nothing can be done to stop such a program. But he added that there are libel and slander laws to take care of the situation if unwarranted accusations should be made.

Declared with a trace of irritation that his new farm program, calling for a system of flexible price supports eventually, represents no basic change in his thinking. He added that he never promised during the presidential campaign to maintain price supports at a rigid 90 per cent of parity beyond the end of this year.

Said he probably will send Congress a special message dealing with his recommendations on foreign trade. Those recommendations will be based, he said, in part on a report by his special study commission and in part on an analysis of that study now being made by various government agencies.

Said the administration abandoned plan store renew its call for a freeze of the 1 1/2 per cent social security pay roll tax because the 2 per cent rate now in effect will be needed to finance the expanded health insurance program the administration proposes. The proposed expansion would bring an additional 10 million Americans under social security.

Declined comment on the latest talk between Secretary of State Dulles and Soviet Ambassador Zarinin on Eisenhower's proposal for creation of an international atomic pool for peaceful purposes. The President said he didn't know when there would be a report on that matter.

Commenting on the proposal of the veterans of foreign wars in Newark, Conn., to send to the FBI names of residents of that city deemed "Communist," said probably nothing can be done to stop such a program. But he added that there are libel and slander laws to take care of the situation if unwarranted accusations should be made.

In its annual report to Gov. Francis Cherry the commission said new interest in cancer control in Arkansas was evidenced by the request of physicians for establishment of tumor clinics at Harrison and West Memphis.

Hemingway Declines Offer of Experience
ENTEBBE, UGANDA (UP) — Ernest Hemingway said today he had refused an offer from an American magazine (Life) for his own account of his African air-crash experiences because he doesn't want to "make capital" of his two lucky escapes.

"I gave the local newsboys a break because they deserved it," the bearded writer said. He added that Mrs. Hemingway is "out and about again" and "doing fine" despite two ribs cracked in the crashes.

Hemingway said he and his wife will stay on here for "a couple of days" and then return to Nairobi "to get ourselves a new Ndogi plane to continue the tour we've planned."

The Hemingways plan to visit the Congo and then travel through Britain's Kenya colony as far as the Somali border area, where he has been commissioned by the Kenya government to conduct an elephant survey.

Labor Leaders Hit at Stand on Strike Vote

By HOWLAND EVANS JR.

WASHINGTON — CIO President Walter Reuther said today President Eisenhower's recommendation for government-sponsored strike votes reflects "a deep-seated anti-labor prejudice."

Reuther bitterly criticized most of Eisenhower's 14-point program for revising the Taft-Hartley labor relations law, stating on testimony prepared for a Senate Labor Committee hearing that its net effect would be to make the law "even worse than it is."

"This is not a middle-of-the-road approach to labor-management relations," he said. "It is essentially the approach of the National Association of Manufacturers, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and of the anti-union employers whom they represent."

Only yesterday, William B. Barton, the Chamber's general counsel, told the committee his organization has serious doubts about half the administration program.

However, the Chamber did offer qualified support for the strike-vote idea which Reuther attacked today.

Under this proposal, the government would hold a secret poll to find out if workers want to strike against their employers in labor disputes.

Pointers Unbeaten in 43 Cage Games

LITTLE ROCK — Van Buren's Pointers, unbeaten in 43 games, held the favorite's position this morning as the annual state high school basketball tournament for girls got underway.

Bergman and Berryville opened the competition, which will run for four days, at 10:30 this morning. Eight other games were scheduled today.

Van Buren plays its first game tomorrow, meeting Leslie in the final game of the first round.

Biggest stumbling blocks to Van Buren's successful defense of its state title appear to be Grubbs and Calico Rock.

Nine games are scheduled for both Thursday and Friday, with the semi-finals Saturday morning and the finals Saturday night.

Cage Tourney Bids to Be Open

LITTLE ROCK — Bids for the state high school basketball tournaments will be opened today, shortly after the 1 p. m. filing deadline.

Johnie Burnett, executive secretary of the Arkansas Athletic Association, said the AAA's Executive Committee will choose the sites this afternoon.

Sites are to be selected for the Class A senior boys tournament March 17-20; Class B senior boys, March 10-13; junior boys, March 3-6; and senior girls, March 17-20.

Most interest centers around bidding for the Class A senior boys meet, which brings together most of the top teams. Jonesboro, Little Rock and Fayetteville are expected to compete for the tournament.

Casey May Lend Aid in Signing

NEW ORK, N.Y. — Casey Stengel, a wizard on the diamond, joins the high brass of the New York Yankees at the conference table today as the world champions step up their efforts to sign their players.

Stengel is coming to town officially to attend the New York

Baseball Writers' Dinner Sunday night. But he has been known to take a welcome hand in adjusting salary differences with his star performers.

So far the Yanks have signed only catcher Yogi Berra from their 1953 regulars. They inherited a running contract when they got Eddie Robinson from the Philadelphia Athletics and have agreed to terms with pitcher Harry Byrd, the other big name in the wholesale swap with Philadelphia.

Tom Gorman, a relief man last season, and two outfield prospects, Art Schult and Emil Tellingner, came into the fold yesterday but third baseman Gil McDougald left the Yankee offices unassigned after a conference.

McDougald said he needed time to think over the Yanks' offer and the management hurriedly called the session a "preliminary conference."

U. S. Debates Resumption of Parley

WASHINGTON, (U. P.) — The State Department faced a tough decision today on whether to direct Special Ambassador Arthur H. Dean to resume negotiations for a Korean peace conference on Communist terms.

Dean was expected to arrive here from New York to confer with department officials on the latest Chinese and North Korean bid to get the stalled peace talks going again. They proposed in a letter to Dean that the negotiations resume at Panmunjom next Monday.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it: First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredients go to work—kill the Pin-Worms quickly and easily. Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Marilyn Monroe Again Suspended

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Marilyn Monroe is suspended again, for refusing a movie role, and there is talk that the picture she rejected may be made without her.

She was suspended Jan. 5, when she disappeared. But Frank Sinatra left a reconciliation with his wife Ava Gardner in Rome and flew to Hollywood on time for his role in the same film.

Shooting was delayed, and when Miss Monroe turned up married to Joe DiMaggio her studio reluctantly gave her until yesterday to report.

She didn't, and her attorney announced: "Miss Monroe has authorized me to make this statement: She has read the script and does not care to do the picture." Miss Monroe was promptly suspended again.

Marilyn and Joe have been honeymooning in an undisclosed spot. He is now in New York. The studio said Marilyn was in Los Angeles, but it didn't know just where.

Jeanne Crain Says Star Too Pampered

By BOB HOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Jeanne Crain is back from the wilds of Africa with the comment that Hollywood stars are coddled and pampered too much.

The flame-haired mother of four filmed "Duel in the Jungle" with Dana Andrews. This was her first independent venture after 10 years of the glamor treatment at 20th Century-Fox. She says it was an eye opener for her.

"I never realized how much is done for a star at the studios," she remarked. "There is someone to take care of your hair, your makeup, your clothes, everything. If you have to walk down a hallway in a scene, the director thinks about whether you should do it or a double should be hired."

"In Africa it was different. We were on our own. Our assistant director was killed on the rapid rehearsal scene which Dana and I were supposed to do in a small river boat two hours later. I had one swimming scene in the river, and had to be tied by ropes underwater so wouldn't be swept away."

"I had faith in our director, George Marshall. When you get that way, you're willing to undertake anything, no matter what the dangers. I think it's good too."

song led by Mrs. Hall accompanied by Mrs. John Yocum. Mrs. Claude Tillery who is circle leader presided over the business session. Hughes Is a Stranger to Own Studio

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Howard Hughes runs one of Hollywood's major motion picture studios. But he has never been inside it.

He confirmed that long-circulated rumor in a rare personal interview, sitting in his inexpensive, 4-year-old car on a darkened airfield in a driving rain.

His own story: "I have never been in the place."

In a quarter century in and around Hollywood, Hughes hasn't given a handful of interviews or press conferences. Occasionally, a reporter gets to take with him, as I have, but it's a casual meeting, accidental, brief but pleasant.

So when you write about the fabulous life of this multimillionaire, you do it largely without his help.

The dark, rain drenched setting for this interview sounds typical of the way Hughes always tries to keep in the shadows. But it wasn't. He was planning to fly out of town, so the airport was a convenient spot.

He wanted to talk about some of the stories which have grown up around him—and which he to his crop of press agents never took the trouble to deny. In fact, sometimes his publicity men have almost as hard a time catching him as do newspapermen.

One of the stories—to be made a most reliable source—is that John Wayne drew $750,000 in salary because of long delays on the still-unreleased film, "Jet Pilot."

The picture was made four years ago at a cost of four million dollars and probably will be released some time this year. Cutting and dubbing work is responsible for the delay, says Hughes. He added:

"Wayne worked no longer than usual in this. The delay has been only in releasing. He got his regular pay, around $200,000."

"And Janet Leigh's costumes will not be out of style. She plays a Russian filer in the movie." Although she was an unknown when the film was made, Hughes says, she hasn't appeared to better advantage in any movie since.

Hollywood often thinks of Hughes as a grim, ruthless, domineering man, but talking to him over the rain, he was charming, easy-going, laughed heartily and often.

He laughs most at the tales about him which don't involve his business judgment. Like the one that Lana Turner in anticipation of marriage, once had sheets monogrammed "HH" and he suggested she wear Huntington Hartford.

But he is deeply concerned about some of the other stories. Almost without exception, he denies them. Yet he concedes that his unorthodox way of doing business probably is at the root of most of them.

RKO minority stockholders, he believes, sometimes use stories about him as the basis for lawsuits. This can cost plenty, he says. He tells of one magazine article, highly critical of his management of the studio.

"One stockholder even came to court with the article pasted on cardboard and the lawyers questioned me about it, paragraph by paragraph."

That's one reason he doesn't like publicity. He one of the nation's more famous courtroom regulars. "There was one," he recalled fondly, "when I went a couple of years without litigation."

He released both "The Outlaw" and the current "French Line" without seals of approval from the Motion Picture Association. One surprising claim from Hughes: Neither has been cut because of censor trouble.

"French Line" in its original uncut version still is running in St. Louis and will continue to do so until the customers decide otherwise," Hughes said.

Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and California raise practically all the rice produced in the United States.

You get a bigger thrill out of acting, and think your work is more vital.

"A lot of Hollywood stars lose their vitality because everything is done for them. They lack the vigor of actually performing."

It is more than half a year since Jeanne ended her long association with 20th-Fox and asked her if she regretted asking for her freedom.

"Not in the least," she said. "I was well worth the $40,000 had to pay to get out."

This was news to me, and asked her about it.

"My option had already been picked up for another year," she explained. "But I didn't like the way I was being treated. Oh, I loved the people I worked with everyone was nice to me. But the pictures! We will draw the curtain of charity over the last three I made there."

"When you've been at a studio as long as I was, you face a problem. They say they have built your name up and they have a right to use it. On the other hand, if you let them put you into anything, your name loses the value they have created."

"It was clear that they were knocking out several pictures in preparation to putting all their money into CinemaScope production. I decided I didn't want to be used in that setup. So I paid $40,000 for my freedom."

"But there is a golden lining. On 'Duel in the Jungle' alone, she says she earned $185,000."

to be cowboys, guys who are part time actors, guys who write and sell television scripts, old guys who used to drive horse cars, young guys working their way through law school.

They feud with the traffic cops endlessly, but in emergencies they have saved many a cop's life. About the only thing they agree on is that women can't drive as well as men — and doctors can't drive as well as women.

"Doctors shouldn't be allowed out in a car alone," one said emphatically. "They may be able to operate on a human head, but put them behind a wheel and they don't know how to operate at all. You never know what they'll do next. And that doesn't seem right, as most of them have gone to college, and got educated."

One of the cabbies I remember best was the man who liked to drive at night.

"I can't take it at home," he said. "We lost our only kid in Korea. My wife had kept him baby shoes, and she gets them out now and starts crying. I can't sit there and look at her. I'd rather be out working."

"You know, sometimes late at night when hardly no one's on the street, and I'm cruising around looking for a fare, I get a funny feeling my kid is riding in the seat beside me, just like he did when he was a boy. Somehow it doesn't make me feel sad at all. It's just like it was before he grew up and they gave him a uniform. He keeps me company."

The city has its dwindling quota of women cab drivers, most of whom got into the business during the last war. I rode with one to other day, an elderly woman 12 years on the job.

"Don't know how much longer I can take this," she said. "I used to be a school teacher until I married. When I lost my husband 12 years ago I bought me this cab with the insurance money."

"It is hard work but I couldn't afford to go back to teaching. Not enough money in it. Besides it doesn't take much patience to drive a cab as it does to teach children, and this way I get more fresh air."

"Listen to that hornblower. He's trying to rattle me, trying to get me into an accident. Those men drivers are jealous because they know I can drive better than they can. They're dogs, and that's just what I call them — dogs."

The hornblowing cab suddenly swooped around us, and the young driver leaned out, grinned, waved at the old lady and shouted, "How's it going honey?"

The old lady peered at him through her spectacles as he drove off, then looked at herself in the mirror and said grudgingly: "Of course, you understand I don't mean to say that ALL men are dogs. Some are nice — but just a few."

State Board Studying Segregation

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Board of Education yesterday was urged to take the initiative in assisting local school districts to effect equalization of Negro and white school facilities.

A subcommittee of the board agreed tentatively that the board should advise local districts of their responsibilities on a dual school system.

Other decisions by the committee were:

1. To incorporate in its recommendations to the board the assurance that any ruling by the United States Supreme Court on school segregation would have no overnight effect on the educational pattern in the state.

2. In the interpretation of a Supreme Court ruling to steer clear of any policy statements that might tend to create hysteria.

3. That the board could act only in an advisory capacity on school policies which are the sole responsibility of the local school districts.

4. A blueprint for community consultation between racial groups on school problems should be provided by the board.

sumption, expanded export or by any other means such that the supply is not in excess of 108 per cent of normal, support prices would remain at 90 per cent of parity.

A normal supply of cotton is equal to 130 per cent of the estimated disappearance. The estimated disappearance for 1954 is 12,600,000 bales, therefore a normal supply for 1955 would be 16,380,000 bales.

One hundred and eight per cent of the normal supply of 16,380,000 bales in 17,880,400, meaning that the supply would have to exceed this figure in 1955 before the support prices would drop below 90 per cent of parity price.

"Consider the situation," Hardin said, "if the supply should climb above 108 per cent normal." For each 2 per cent increase in supply above 108 per cent of normal, the support price level drops 1 per cent of the parity price. For example if the supply were between 108 and 110 per cent, the support price would drop to 89 per cent of parity and so on until the supply reached or exceeded 130 per cent of normal when the support price would become stable regardless of supply until the supply dropped below 130 per cent. At that time, the support price would begin to climb back to 90 per cent of parity according to the supply-demand situation.

The delegates, representing each of the state Farm Bureaus at the AFBF convention, he explained, realized that if farmers were to enjoy high support prices, they must assume some of the responsibility of keeping supply in line with demand just as did the Arkansas farmers when they voted to submit to the necessary acreage allotments to bring in line with demand.

The delegates to the Arkansas Farmers Federation's annual convention voted to accept acreage allotments on cotton not to exceed 20 million acres in exchange for guaranteed price supports equal to 90 per cent of the parity price.

Compere to Retire as Draft Chief

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Brig. Gen. E. L. Compere, Arkansas selective service director since January, 1941, will retire at the end of his week under mandatory federal law.

Earle named the subcommittee last month to study present problems of school equalization and those which might arise after Supreme Court action on segregation.

Another meeting of the subcommittee will be held Feb. 22; the board's next meeting is in March.

Former Texarkana Athlete Dies

TEXARKANA, Te. — A one-time Texas League baseball star and former part owner of the Texarkana club, Wayne Windle, died in hospital here yesterday.

Windle, 50, played with Fort Worth and Dallas in the Texas League more than 20 years ago. He also saw service at short stop with Waco, Texas, and Milwaukee.

In the late 1930s, Windle owned part of the Texarkana club. His last baseball activity was coach at Texarkana Junior College's team in 1950.

At Brightman's said have a good chance of going through the rest of the season without another defeat, too, because of their eight remaining games, four are with Portland, two with Gonzaga and one each with Puget Sound and Pacific Lutheran. They've beaten them all in the course of their streak.

Joe Penhick, the lad who never played high school basketball, was high man with 30 points. OCU led, 27-25, at the half mainly on the efforts of Arnold Short, who wound up operations with 20 points.

But in the second half, Penhick got some help from his mates, Cal Bauer, who found his shooting eye, and Ron Bissett, who took over control of the backboards.

Elsewhere the action was thin. Bevo Francis and his operatives from Rio Grande crushed Morris Harvey, 74-62, but Bevo was held in tonight in their 15-round outdoor fight in Miami Stadium.

Archie's wife Alice dealt the champ a legal blow that hurt him worse than anything the light-punching Maxim car. throw when he filed a separate maintenance suit yesterday that tied up his purse and will keep him in Florida until a settlement is reached.

The action was particularly painful to Moore, 37, because it promises to be the richest payday of his 17-year career.

If predictions of a $100,000 gate hold up, his share will be in the neighborhood of $52,000. He is to receive 40 per cent, and Maxim 20 per cent of the net pot, which will be sweetened by $50,000 in television and radio receipts.

Dodger Manager Likes Rookies

By WALTER ALTON

Brooklyn Dodgers Manager

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — From the start, may I say that I am not in a good position to say much about the Brooklyn Dodgers for the simple reason that I am new to the major leagues.

About the only Dodger department I can discuss is the rookie department. As manager of Montreal and St. Paul I have had the opportunity to watch most of these boys develop. We have several fine young pitchers coming up from Montreal in Hamp Coleman, Tom LaSorda, Ken Lehman, Ed Roebuck and Glenn Mickens.

Coleman and LaSorda showed considerable improvement toward the end of the season and throughout the playoff and junior world series. Coleman probably improved the most. He gets good velocity on his fast ball, his curve is sharp and he has improved considerably in controlling his pitches. LaSorda seems to have overcome his wildness. He is a little fellow. However, his courage and desire to win overcome his small stature.

Munn and his "multiple offense" finally have moved into a position to challenge the Don Faurot split school and the followers of Earl (Red) Blaik for coaching supremacy.

So far this year, Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty, Munn's line coach at Syracuse and Michigan State since 1940, has become head coach at Michigan State. Steve Sobo, the backfield coach, was chosen for the top position at Pennsylvania, and Edwards, the end coach since 1949, was picked by North Carolina State. All three have indicated that they intend to follow the "multiple offense" system which brought Munn so much success.

Steve Sobo, the backfield coach, was chosen for the top position at Pennsylvania, and Edwards, the end coach since 1949, was picked by North Carolina State. All three have indicated that they intend to follow the "multiple offense" system which brought Munn so much success.

SURPLUS FALL MERCHANDISE

Selling starts Thursday morning 8:30 sharp lasting until further notice. We have completed our inventories and find that we are heavily loaded in every department. We bought too much goods, the weather was not right, sales were not enough, the manufacturers overshipped us on merchandise, and now we must turn these goods into cash at once. You will want to make this the biggest saving event of the year. The store will be piled high from front to back, we pulled it out from under all the counters. This will be the biggest sale in 20 years. Remember we are not quitting business — just disposing of surplus stock. The store will be closed all day Wednesday preparing for this money-saving event. Many salespeople will be needed so apply early. Starts Thursday, 8:30 A. M., January 28th.
